Bradford, I was one of the first people to know that you were going to do it. I did all I could to help you. I gave you the best of my advice, I risked myself to help you. Since you're a stubborn little dumbass, it didn't. I just wanted to repeat myself for the hundreth time; I love you so much. You were there for me on my darkest days. I've been crying for ages. I don't know if I'll ever stop. This all happened so suddenly. I've always had a bit of feelings for you. You were my light, my heart. You made me so happy, Bradford. I'm going to be crying for you, for a while. I love you, I love you, I love you. I feel like I'm going to hell because I knew I couldn't do much to stop you, other than convincing for hours. Please visit me. I miss you so much. Give me another hug, whether I can feel it or not. I love you, my little dumbfuck. I'll never forget you. Love,

Oli ... AKA Dumbshit, Dumbass. ♥
